

WHOLESOME ADVICE.

During the campaign last fall the Reno Gazette kept repeating time after time a warning to the cattlemen that Mexican cattle would come in so freely on account of the reduction of duty that the cattle industry of Nevada would be ruined, and that the Silver party to a great degree was responsible for it. The situation remains the same and the cattlemen, instead of receiving less for their beef this Spring, have received more than for many years past, and even the Gazette is now remarking that the present and future looks very promising for the cattle industry; that the price of stock has already advanced $2 per head and with a strong probability of a further advance in the near future. We are glad to see that the Reno organ of the gold-trust party is willing to admit that it was a failure as a cattle prophet, and if it would only go further and admit that it had erred as a political adviser during the past two years, and it is now glad to acknowledge the mistake and advise the citizens of its section to stand by Nevada as against the world, it would be doing them and itself a great service, more, yes ten times more, than by advising them to support a political party that is opposed to our every interest, except possibly the wool industry; and it is not likely that if the Republican party should get into power in 1896 that any action would be taken in reference to the tariff further than to talk about it.—Silver State.

GOLD BUG BUREAU.

The goldbugs are circulating peculiar literature all over the country, and every paper in this State has received some. In this connection the Silver State says:

We decline to be the medium of circulating the "broad-side" fulmination of Wall Street, and refers the "bureau" to the Reno Gazette, the Territorial Enterprise, the Morning News and Nevada Tribune as suitable material for forming a pop gun quartette ally for the promotion of the object of the "bureau". These sheets can drop a nickel in the slot by tapping the telephone 1092 Cortlandt, and up will pop "broad side" editorials to take the place of their g. o. p. gibberish, and thus at least relieve their few readers from the accustomed monotony.

A Political Trick.

The Vermonters find no difficulty in ascertaining how people vote under the Australian law. Political leaders having "fixed" a voter, give him, just before he enters the booth, a sheet of soft paper of the same size of the entire ballot and a hard pencil with which to make his marks. Inside the booth he lays the ballot on the soft paper and any marks he may make on the ballot with the pencil show faintly on soft paper. A subsequent comparison of the latter proves conclusively how the vote was cast, and no provision of the law has been violated. If this is not an ingenious method of obtaining evidence that "the goods have been delivered," what is it?

The Disease of Nagging.

A physician writes in the North American Review that nagging is a disease. He accounts for the generally admitted fact women are more addicted to it than men on the ground that men from the time when they were small boys have been taught that words may be followed by blows, and that women have had no such salutary education. Being assured that they could say what they pleased without having to fight, they have never acquired the habit of restraining a tendency, natural to both sexes, of saying unpleasant things. The writer brings into view another obstacle in the way of the perfect equality of the sexes.

A Gauzy Humbug.

A circular is out from the office of the American Mine Owners Association, Western Union Building Chicago, Illinois, calling on everybody to send them their names to the Association and make a lot of money.

They offer to pay for advertising in shares. If the editor sends $6 and runs the advertisement a year he gets 60 shares of stock. Any man who bites at this bait ought to get swindled.

Assemblyman Allen in a letter to the Reno Journal, states that the statement crediting him with saying that he intended to sever his connection with the Silver party and join the Republican party is a falsehood.

ALL SORTS.

Nine patients are now at the Keeley Institute.

Quite a number of horses are now in training at the track.

Leslie Bell is doing a rushing business selling bicycles.

T. R. McNamee of Eureka was admitted to the bar yesterday.

Dr. Plouff, who was shot by J. D. McGaughey, in San Francisco two weeks ago is dead.

The Salvation Army is already making quite an impression on the sin-called city of Carson.

The British Museum has withdrawn from public use in the library books of which Oscar Wilde is the author.

The denial by Cleveland that he drinks, deprives him of what might by many be considered an excellent defense in the bond deal.

A man supposed to have died 20 years ago has turned up in San Francisco, and claims $14,000,000 of real estate in the heart of the city.

Rev. J. C. Reed, the Baptist minister who last February attempted to rob the East Portland First National Bank, is now on trial at Portland for the crime.

Paul Shultz, the ex land agent of the U. P. R. R. at Tacoma, Wash., killed himself Friday. The loss of his position is thought to have caused the suicide.

Miss Annie Londonderry, the young woman who is making a tour of the world on a bicycle, was seriously hurt near Stockton Friday by running into a barbed wire fence.

At Petaluma, Cal., in the case of Maxfield vs. Turner, Judge Skuder decided that a minor contracting to purchase a bicycle on the installment plan can recover the amount paid if the machine is taken by the seller for nonpayment of installments in full.

The South Dakota militia, like the Nevada militia, will have to disband or pay its own expenses. The Legislature reduced the appropriation for the militia from $8,000 to $300, and Governor Sheldon has notified each company that it has the option of disbanding or maintaining its organization and paying its own expenses.

Round Valley, Mendocino county, is in a state of turmoil at present over cases of hog and cattle-stealing. No less than half a dozen arrests have been made within the past month, with several convictions. The trouble appears to be between the white and anti-white factions, and trouble is said to be imminent.

The silver sentiment is spreading through the East like wild-fire. Persons who have heretofore affiliated with the old parties are rallying under the banner of the American Bimetallist party. The unanswerable arguments of the Silver men are as destructive to the goldbugs as cleanliness and kerosene are to bedbugs.

If a few of the time serving followers of the twin wings of the gold trust can get any satisfaction over the thought that they will be able to down the Silver party in Nevada in the contest in 1896, they are welcome to it. It is well enough to talk about the Republican national convention nominating a Silver man for President at the present time, but wait until the convention meets and the Nevada exponents of the g. o. p. will have to swallow another gold standard bearer as sure as two and two make four. With such a load to carry they will hardly have the heart to place an electoral ticket in the field.—Silver State.

Chip of the Old Block.

The rumor about town is that after Furlong found his boy near Wabuska that the fugitive proposed a horse race on the way home, and jockeyed the old man out of $40 and three six-shooters.

The Overland Flyer.
